What fun to own a Lundby Doll's house and play with all those little pieces of furniture — almost like real furniture! There are two kinds of doll's houses: pre-assembled with two floors and ready-to-assemble with one or several floors as well as roof terrace. (One floor per carton.) The electrical connections are built-in in both types. The beautifully-made little pieces of furniture are sold in boxed sets or separately. These are educational toys according to child psychologists and parents think that it's the best possible way for their children to spend their time. The Swedish Toy Merchants' Association awarded their highest award to Lundby, as the best toy of 1967.

Doll's house, with built-in electrical connections and sockets in every room for 4-volt light bulbs. There is space under the staircase for a Lundby transformer. Connection cable for transformer is attached. If you like, start with only a Doll's house and one piece of furniture, then complete it by gradually adding more furniture.
